

Debating Club News

Recently, the debating club sent three senior teams to the UCC Philisoph Munster Competition. They were each given our motions in advance.

In Ronan and Ciarán Daly's room, the motion was THB (this house believes) that online dating is better than traditional face to face dating.

In Eoin and Rory O'Sullivan's room the motion was THW (this house would) Leave the EU.

In Jack Dignham and Ryan O'Connell's room, the motion read THW Stop Teaching religion in schools.

In each room there was five other teams to compete against, with a total of six in each room, three on opposition, three on proposition. All three teams, we are pleased to report, managed to get a first in each of their rooms, the position required to reach the quarter finals of the competition. The lads overcame impressive odds against 15 other very able teams from various schools, such as Christian's, Pres and Regina Mundi.
